Obtaining Library Privileges

Fill out the online Library Card Application Form available on the Denver Seminary website. After financial clearance come to the circulation desk in the library to receive your student ID and library card.

Online Catalog

The online catalog – LS2PAC – is accessible through the Denver Seminary Library. This Google-type search identifies results in print and electronic books.

Library Account

Set up your online library login through LS2PAC to renew borrowed items, request items that are checked out, review your history, and save searches and lists for bibliographies.

Checkout Times and Limits

Checkout periods for most items are 4 weeks, limited to a total of 26 items at a time.

Course Reserves

Physical reserves for residential courses are available at circulation. Checkout periods are 2 hours, limit 2 items. Academic Reserves can be located in the online catalog by selecting the course and professor. Library eReserves are posted in each course through Moodle.

Digital Resources

The library has more than 1,400 electronic books in addition to over 500,000 in the Digital Theological Library (DTL). You may access them through the online catalog. Over 27 million full-text journal articles are available through the Digital Theological Library, the Open Access Digital Theological Library and EBSCO. User Guides and brief instructional videos are available for all digital resources on the Research Resource page <https://denverseminary.edu/resources/library/research-resources/>. For help locating and accessing digital resources email Charlotte Nutter.

The library has five Kindles pre-loaded with books for some courses; you may check them out at circulation.

Scanners and Copiers

There is a scanner in the Reference Lab for research purposes. You can scan to a flash drive; flash drives are available at circulation for checkout. Scan-to-email is available at all 3 copiers in the library. Photo copying is 10 cents per page. It is tracked through your print copy account and can be replenished at the circulation desk or in the business office. There is a colored printer in the computer area (adjacent to front entrance), and copies are 15 cents per page.

Library Conference Rooms

There are 5 conference rooms in the library for student meetings and study groups. They can be scheduled for 2 hour blocks through the circulation desk.

Library Carrel Lockers

There are 16 secure carrel lockers available for students on a first come, first served basis with payment of a key deposit. Priority is given to those researching and writing theses.

Returning Books and Media

Book returns are located outside of the library on the north wall of the building, in the Student Center near the library entrance, and at the circulation desk.
